

Re:Discover Nottingham Director call-out

Background

Streetwise Opera is an opera company that enables people who've experienced homelessness to find inspiration and empowerment while they rebuild their lives and identities. We support participants to develop as creative people and, as we amplify their voices, change how society views homelessness.

We engage world-class artists, both established and emerging, to co-create bold new work and reimagine traditional repertoire. We create opera that is for everyone and, by bringing together diverse voices, change how society views opera.

The Re:Discover festival

Re:Discover is a triple bill of new operas, co-created by people with lived experience of homelessness working side by side with world class artists, inspired by the music of composers of African and Caribbean heritage.

The Re:Discover festival will explore, draw inspiration from, and respond to the music of Ignatius Sancho, George Bridgetower, Joseph Bologne (Chevalier de Saint-Georges), Samuel Coleridge-Taylor, Florence Price, Margaret Bonds and Shirley Thompson.

A librettist and three composers have been commissioned to co-create new stories and music, alongside Streetwise Opera performers, culminating in three new short operas.

Streetwise Opera is contracting a Director in each of the regions we work in – Manchester, Nottingham and London – to engage with individuals who have experienced homelessness, to bring these pieces to life and to work with the performers to stage them.

We envisage each opera being approximately 12 - 15 mins in length, and our aim is to present each piece as part of a festival of work in the summer of 2024.

We seek to be representative of the communities in which we work. For this reason, we particularly encourage and welcome applications from artists of African and Caribbean heritage and dual heritage.
